

Leadership In Action

In the Loop: Q&A

What inspired you to pursue a career in the amusement industry, and how did your journey begin?

I was introduced to the industry by a very close family friend who recognized that my work ethic, training in the Navy, and electrical engineering education would be a good match for the maintenance team at Six Flags Great Adventure. I am so grateful for the opportunity and have loved every minute.

As President of Baynum Amusement Solutions, what key actions do you recommend operators take to effectively maintain their attractions and ensure guest safety?

Have a plan. Daily and ongoing maintenance are incredibly important and can prevent annoying interruptions to operations. Optimal performance requires both short and long term maintenance and repair planning to prevent costly damage, restore expected wear and tear, and ensure long-term protection of valuable assets.

Walt Bowser: Elevating Baynum's Vision for Attraction Excellence

At Baynum Amusement Solutions, leadership is grounded in experience, technical expertise, and a deep understanding of the amusement industry. As President, Walt Bowser brings decades of hands-on experience from both park operations and supplier partnerships, making him a key figure in driving Baynum's commitment to safety, innovation, and asset protection.

With a career that began in the trenches at Six Flags Entertainment Corporation, Walt rose to become VP of Maintenance and Construction. In that role, he oversaw maintenance and construction programs and worked closely with manufacturers to bring innovative solutions to the table.

At Baynum Amusement Solutions, Walt applies his hands-on experience and strategic vision to help build, protect, and preserve some of the most beloved attractions worldwide.
